

An aerial photograph of a coastal town, likely Saint-Tropez, France. The town is built on a hillside overlooking the sea. The buildings are mostly light-colored with terracotta roofs. In the foreground, there is a marina with several boats docked. The background shows a hazy coastline and hills under a bright sky.

Testimonial

Mark

My family of 7 had a guided tour of Saint-Tropez with Frederique. She is very knowledgeable of the area and the history of the area. She is an expert in the the region for the south of France. The information she teaches will be the foundation for the rest of your exploring in the region . Without Frederique you will be walking in the dark, and sadly missing valuable information of the sights you are walking right past. I cannot say enough positive things about our tour and would highly recommend.

Excellent service! Frederique knew how to define what we hoped for our first stay on the French Riviera as a family. We had a great stay following Frederique's recommendations. We hope to be back soon! Thank you again
